

It all adds up for maths test talents

TALENTED maths pupils from three primary schools took extra tests as part of a national competition.

The 10- and 11-year-olds from St Winifred's in Newstead Road, Lee, and St Saviour's in Bonfield Road, Lewisham, joined children at St Matthew Academy in St Joseph's Vale, Blackheath, on November 24. The 20 pupils took national Primary Mathematics Challenge papers and are aiming to go through to the competition's next round in June.

The challenge is run to stretch talented pupils and their entry was organised by St Matthew Academy maths teacher Helene Le Roux.
